CORONER'S JURY PROBE DEATH OF WILLIAM KOOI

Return Verdict of Suicide—Funeral Services To Be Friday Afternoon.

Funeral services for William Kool, prominent oil dealer, of this city, who shot himself to death during a fit of despondency, will be held at 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon from the residence, 603 South Sterling street, and at 2 o'clock from the P. M. Church. Burial will be in Riverview cemetery.

An inquest was conducted by Coroner Dr. L. D. Howe at the Wagner Bros., mortuary yesterday afternoon, and a verdict of death from suicide, returned.

Held Inquest.

In their investigation of the case, members of the coroner's jury heard the testimony of Mrs. Kool, wife of the decedent, Dr. George Powers, who attended him, and Lloyd Chalfant, a son-in-law. Neither Mrs. Kool nor her son-in-law was able to shed any light on the case, the former stating that her husband had previously threatened to take his life, but had advanced no reason for wanting to do so. She said that he had been in ill health, but of late had shown no evidence of physical adversity.

Dr. Powers, in his testimony, related the condition of the victim following the shooting, and told of his oft-expressed desire to die after his removal to the hospital. No reason was advanced for the act, Dr. Powers stated.

Funeral Friday.

The [illegible] was born at Fulton, Ill., in 1887, spending his early life
